

Lesson 36 Questions

What are three possible values for the CSS position property?

Which position value allows the DIV to be moved away from its position in the document while the space the DIV takes up remains open?

Which position value allows the DIV to be moved away from its position in the document while the space the DIV took up does not remain open?

What four CSS properties allow a DIV (with appropriate position) to be moved around the page?

In order, what do the four arguments of the CSS rgba function represent?

What is the range of values (minimum and maximum) for the first three arguments of the rgba function?

What is the range of values (minimum and maximum) for the fourth argument of the rgba function?

What are the two possible values for the CSS visibility property?